IN MOTION

Bremer & Leguil is the expert for anti-corrosion, lubricants and cleansing agents. And a bit more.

Yes, we are proud: more than 15,000 customers worldwide rely on us and our products. They come from industry and energy supply, aerospace, including renowned groups as well as many small and medium-sized companies, plus more and more cities and municipalities. They all have one thing in common: they trust us and the quality and service of Bremer & Leguil.

Why? Surely because we are there for our customers. With a high-quality range, which guarantees two very basic things: helping our customers to keep their machines in good condition and thus ensuring smooth production.

We consider ourselves a premium manufacturer. That is our aspiration and our commitment. We therefore rely exclusively on quality products, which must be efficient and offer as much safety as possible – namely for our customers and the environment. This is why our company's principle is to use essentially no ingredients with CMR properties – and that applies with us from the outset: in other words, starting from the development of our lubricating oils and fats, special cleansing agents and anti-corrosives.

Therefore, whether it's Rivolta, CASSIDA or VIRTOLIS: in our product lines, which we market globally, only high-quality, semi- or fully synthetic raw materials are used. In the NSF registered lubricant and cleansing agents field, nobody can put anything over on us. In this sector we are Germany's market leaders. And yes, we are also proud of that.

However, we are just a bit more than that: we are located close to you. You can find Bremer & Leguil across Germany in over 40 cities and regions. That means that on a day-to-day basis, one of our experienced field consultants is close by and can look after your company as you expect: quickly, personally and free of charge. And one more thing: yes, we are the offspring of strong parents. As part of Fuchs Petrolub SE, the world's largest provider of independent lubricant manufacturers, we can draw on global knowledge for the development and manufacturing of lubricants.

▶ Our mindset –

NEVER STAND STILL.

As lubricant experts, we don't just keep your company moving, we also don't want to stand still ourselves.

15.000
customers
worldwide

Because not only the number of our customers is increasing, but also our aspirations for ourselves. That doesn't just apply to our products but also to what we consider service: providing consultation, personal support and quick assistance, should it ever be required. In other words, our work doesn't end when a deal is completed. It is only just the beginning.

// We therefore develop new ideas, work to develop our products even more and aspire to offer our customers all of the important products from a single source.

// We therefore attach the utmost importance to personal consulting.

// You should therefore not expect any less from us than you would for your business and yourself. Our products should help you to keep things moving and make your work simpler, safer, trouble-free and efficient.

// This therefore applies for today as for the future: only satisfied customers guarantee our long-term success.

THIS IS WHAT DRIVES US

Bremer & Leguil has a strong foundation. It is based on four components which make up our business model and sum up our approach.

// These four components are the reason why we have grown from a tiny two-man firm to a company with over 100 employees within 50 years. A company trusted by over 15,000 customers in Germany and around the world.

// Those components are also the reason why we work for our customers successfully in very different fields: from machine construction, the automotive and food industries, and even modern aerospace.

Executive Director Frank Schnipper

“Everything starts out small, even Bremer & Leguil was a small company in its early years. But one with a fascinating and unusual strategic focus for its time. This included developing and offering exclusively high-quality products, considering work and environmental safety aspects at all costs and ensuring customer loyalty through closeness and trust. Finally, offering products in smaller user-friendly pack-aging sizes, a far cry from what was common in the chemical industry at the time.

50 years later, it has become the specialist for lubricants, anti-corrosive products and cleansing agents. We have always remained true to our focus. And what we plan for the future is easy to describe: we simply want to make our customer’s work easier, safer and more efficient.”

01 LUBRICANTS & ANTI-CORROSIVES // Always our focus

How do you develop a product portfolio of over 200 lubricants and anti-corrosives of the highest quality? How do you create a unique range which satisfies the strictest national and international standards? By being precise – and that's all. The world is in motion and it's best to stay focussed. We do exactly that and adhere to our first component: Bremer & Leguil develops the safest lubricants on the market, manufactures them and sells them. Period.

We have been following this path from the beginning. Therefore, only our brands Rivolta and CASSIDA provide solutions for almost all areas of application and fields. This applies above all for our new product line VITROLIS, a highly specialised medium for the container glass industry, which we have offered since 2016. Thanks to our consistently pursued path, we have become a demanded partner for large machine manufacturers. We were therefore one of the first companies to come onto the market with food-technically certified and fast biodegradable lubricants. We know that the quality of lubricant makes the decisive difference.

Because of that Bremer & Leguil has consciously developed into the expert for lubricants and anti-corrosives for special uses. And quality begins for us with raw materials. That's why we select our suppliers so carefully. Our first building block: we know what we can do best. Everything involves high-quality lubricants and specialities. At the end of this path stands peerless know-how and skill, that makes Bremer & Leguil a popular partner for its customers.

02 CLEANSING AGENTS // It works!

Equipment and machines are not low-maintenance in the truest sense of the word. Nothing works without professional cleaning and maintenance. And nothing works without the right products for it. Bremer & Leguil offers everything you need. This begins with the first consultation, continues with the suitable special cleansing agent for you and ends with a complete cleaning system that we offer.

We know what we're talking about because we speak about our origins. Bremer & Leguil was one of the first companies to develop products for wet electric cleaning of connected de-energized and voltage-carrying equipment and has marketed those successfully.

For surface cleaning, you can also find the right cleansing agent for every purpose in our product range. Depending on the nature of the material, type of dirt or cleaning process, we have the corresponding ultra-pure and highly-effective hydrocarbon or water-based cleaning product to choose from. Likewise in the NSF registered product field.

03 SAFETY // Our biggest priority

We attach utmost importance to work safety and that has always been the case. Those aren't just empty words: even in the early beginnings, 50 years ago, Bremer & Leguil paid attention to safety in the workplace. Our first product from the 1960s was none other than a safety cleansing agent for electrical appliances.

This is a binding testament. Even today, we consider every development by asking the question: How can we guarantee safety and work protection? Therefore, you will not find any ingredients in our products that can cause gene damage or are carcinogenic (CMR). You will also find no additional odour-changing substances. We are convinced that a product should only include ultra-pure ingredients.

We don't just keep this expertise for ourselves: we are happy to make it available to our customers and also offer topic-specific courses to carry out hazardous substance substitution on site in accordance with TRGS 600. With just one goal: so that our customers can reduce the number of hazardous substances safely.

04 PEOPLE // We make the difference

Nothing works without teamwork. At Bremer & Leguil, we consider ourselves a unit. We achieve innovative solutions together, we work together on long-term and personal relationships with our customers. We can do this because we have so many employees that have worked their whole lives for us. We believe that Bremer & Leguil can continue the success stories of our customers year on year. This is thanks to a high personal commitment, special dealings with each other and special dealings with our customers: we speak their language, listen to them carefully and don't ask questions until we have understood them to the last detail. "We call that customer-centricity. On an equal footing with our customers."

Certified quality – much more than a promise

For over 10 years, our quality management system has been certified in accordance with DIN EN ISO 9001 and our environment management system in accordance with DIN EN ISO 14001. Since December 2010, we have also been one of only 18 companies worldwide who have been certified in accordance with DIN EN ISO 21469.

As recently as the end of 2016, we also successfully introduced DIN EN ISO 50001, as efficient energy management is indispensable for our future generations.

Many of our products are also NSF, halal and kosher registered and therefore guarantee safe use for the food, drink and pharma industry.

The best proof of quality – satisfied customers.

More than 15,000 companies trust our products and our skills. Hereafter, we present to you a small selection of customers, who have already produced and been kept in good condition with our products safely for many years.

THERE ARE MANY COMPANIES

in our field,
but none of them
are like us.

// Our 40 field consultants are on-site with you at all times and quickly.

// The service is complemented by our application-technical consultants, who are available to you on the phone at all times.

// We are proud of our company culture: many of our employees have worked for us for over 20 years. We have a face and you have a reliable contact partner.

// We deliver quickly and securely from the warehouse without waiting periods.

// We produce everything in Germany. Which means: high tempo, even higher reliability.

// We offer a complete service. Of course, this means that you receive complete documentation from us, complete with all safety data sheets, model operating instructions and application charts.

// We don't keep secrets: our products are certified in accordance with the highest and most important global standards, without exception.

// We place particular value on food protection. When it comes to the development of food-technical products, whether it is NSF registered or kosher and halal certified, we are Germany's number one.

// We can be contacted online through our special, customer-oriented and round-the-clock online shop on our homepage: www.bremer-leguil.de

Und last but not least...

// Because we believe that a company should be more than just the sum of its products or balance sheets. Which is why we don't just talk about responsibility, but help too. For example, Duisburg Children in Need, or a youth hospice in the Düsseldorf region.
